How RNIB Bookshare helped Charlie through his GCSEs

Charlie, a 16 year old from Lincolnshire, says RNIB Bookshare is “one of the best things to happen” and explains how “it has always been a massive help” in his successful journey through his GCSEs. When he was just a few months old, Charlie was diagnosed with optic nerve hypoplasia and nystagmus. His mother was diagnosed at the same time and, in addition, both Charlie and his mum have ocular albinism. Charlie was delighted with his nine GCSEs and is now studying for three A-levels.

“In year 11, when you are heading towards your GCSEs, you really, really want to be revising. Being able to do as much independent revision at home is amazing! Having that opportunity to do that is actually a great help for any student, whether they have vision impairment or not. Many fully sighted students are able to revise whenever they want to but for vision impaired students, it’s much, much harder, especially if you need large text, like I do myself.”

“It would have been almost impossible if I didn’t have RNIB Bookshare. It’s being able to work as independently as possible and I think that’s what Bookshare gives any vision impaired student the ability to do.”
